Unwanted Plastic Becomes Museum Shop Merchandise.
Parallel Plastics' Stone Magnets to Be Available at Nakanoshima Museum of Art, Osaka's 'dot to dot today' Starting November 10.

Hamee Corp. (Head Office: Odawara City, Kanagawa Prefecture, President and CEO: Ikuhiro Mizushima, Securities Code: 3134, TSE Standard Market) announces that starting Tuesday, November 10, 2026, its plastic upcycling service "Parallel Plastics" will offer its "Stone Magnets" at "dot to dot today," the museum shop of the Nakanoshima Museum of Art, Osaka, operated by SOUP inc. (Address: 2F Nakanoshima Museum of Art, Osaka, 4-3-1 Nakanoshima, Kita-ku, Osaka 530-0005, Representative Director: Yuki Hisada; hereinafter referred to as "SOUP"). This is the first time products developed through the service using unwanted plastics, including offcuts, are being featured at an art museum retail space.

■About Stone Magnets

The raw materials consist of traceable, unwanted plastics—including off-spec products and offcuts generated during manufacturers' production processes. The marbled pattern on each surface is formed by blending plastics of varying types and colors, ensuring that no two pieces are identical.

Price: JPY2,200(tax included)
Size: 3–3.5 cm in diameter
Design: DRILL DESIGN

■Comment from Yukari Nishino, Buyer, SOUP inc.
"At dot to dot today, we offer a wide range of items, centered on merchandise related to our exhibitions and collection, alongside everyday essentials and design products. The Stone Magnets are characterized by their rich colors and unique expressions, with each piece being one of a kind. With an appearance reminiscent of stones and minerals formed over many years, one of their charms is the surprising fact that they are made from offcuts and off-spec products generated in the production of everyday plastic products.
We hope visitors will enjoy learning about the materials and the manufacturing story behind each piece, while finding their own personal favorite in the store."

■Comment from Takuya Miyaguchi, Director of Parallel Plastics, Hamee Corp.
"Art museums are places where we encounter unique forms of expression. The Stone Magnets similarly embody the distinct character of the original products from which they were made. I would be delighted if visitors, after viewing the exhibitions, discover and take home their own one-of-a-kind piece at the museum shop."

■About "dot to dot today" (Museum Shop, Nakanoshima Museum of Art, Osaka)

The Nakanoshima Museum of Art, Osaka opened in 2022 as a museum whose collection centers on Japanese and international art and design from the late 19th century to the present. "dot to dot today" is the museum shop of the Nakanoshima Museum of Art, Osaka. As a place that connects dots—objects with people, and people with people—the shop carries products by designers and manufacturers with close ties to Osaka, as well as interior goods, books, stationery, toys, tableware, food, and more, selected from a free and open perspective.

■About Parallel Plastics
"No More Discarding Plastics" — Parallel Plastics is an upcycling service that transforms unwanted plastics of varying compositions into new products through a melting and blending process. It eliminates processes such as sorting, washing, and pelletization, and adds no virgin materials. Launched in May 2023 as an alternative pathway alongside traditional recycling, which relies on sorting and virgin materials. Recipient of the Good Design Award 2025.

Parallel Plastics welcomes inquiries from businesses interested in transforming manufacturing offcuts, off-spec products, or discontinued goods into new products.
