Vision Inc. (Headquarters: Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo; President, Representative Director and COO: Kenji Ota, hereinafter Vision), has officially launched a new service, “Inkan-Sakusei.com” (<https://inkan-sakusei.com/>), on April 1, 2026, which enables corporations and sole proprietors to easily create and purchase high-quality seals online.

■ Background and purpose of service

Even in today’s increasingly digital and paperless world, the importance of seals—including registered seals, bank seals, and trade name seals—remains unchanged in critical business situations that form the foundation of a company, such as incorporation, starting a sole proprietorship, opening bank accounts, and entering into various contracts.

Vision has supported business startups and operations by providing office infrastructure and a wide range of related services—including corporate mobile phones, telephone lines, internet connectivity, office equipment (such as multifunction devices and PCs), and website development—thereby contributing to the establishment and growth of numerous companies.

In 2025, we launched “Kicho-Daiko.com (<https://kicho-daikou.com/>),” a service designed to support back-office operations, with the aim of further contributing to building a strong foundation for business management.

With the launch of “Inkan-Sakusei.com,” we will deliver high-quality seals—a symbolic “first step” in starting a business—that customers can rely on and use for years to come.

As a result, we will be able to provide seamless support across each stage of business growth from “seal creation” at the time of establishment to the arrangement of telecommunications and office infrastructure required for operations and expansion, as well as daily accounting services (bookkeeping services).

■ Features of “Inkan-Sakusei.com”

- High-quality seals at affordable prices

We use only seal materials that meet strict quality control standards. By combining the craftsmanship of skilled artisans with state-of-the-art engraving machines, we provide high-quality seals that serve as the face of a business for years to come, all at a reasonable price.

- Utilizing a strong logistics network built through our existing businesses

By leveraging the domestic and international delivery operations, as well as the inventory and quality control expertise cultivated through our core business, “GLOBAL WiFi®,” we apply these capabilities to the distribution of seals.

This allows us to address the concerns associated with online purchases and establish a support system that enables customers to use our services with confidence.

- A diverse selection of seal types and materials

We offer a wide range of materials, from highly popular titanium to traditional materials such as black water buffalo horn and boxwood. In addition to corporate “startup sets” that include representative seals, bank seals, and square seals, we offer a wide range of seals, including trade name seals (such as square seals and rubber stamps) ideal for sole proprietors and freelancers.

- Intuitive and user-friendly purchasing method

We have adopted a sophisticated user interface (UI) that allows clients to select fonts and sizes from smartphones and PCs, supporting a highly satisfactory seal creation experience.
